AMATEUR WIRELESS FROM CALIFORNIA TO HAWAII

The local wireless office frequently receives signals and messages from unknown sources, and Manager Balch thinks it quite likely that the following story is true:

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 27.—Adrian Anderson and Delos Martin, two local "wireless" amateurs, bridged the ocean spaces with their wizardry of the air last night and "talked" with Honolulu, 2100 miles away, for the first time that feat has ever been accomplished in Santa Cruz.

They had the wireless operator at Honolulu guessing at first but after they had proved to him that they were really on the dry land of the City of the Holy Cross greetings were exchanged, and the two local boys were warmly congratulated by the island operator.

The conversation occurred between 12:30 and 12:45 this morning.

Readers of the romance "Via Wireless," now running in The News, need not marvel at the performances described therein when they contemplate the experience of these Santa Cruz boys.

assistant cashier for the Beach company. He has been a persistent "wireless" amateur for two years, and his little plant at the beach has been the object of much interest locally. Lately, he and young Martin put in new instruments, which helped them considerably. Delos Martin is the oldest son of Ben Martin of the Santa Cruz Law and Abstract company, and has his plant at the family home on King street.

"What surprised us most," said Anderson to a News reporter today, "was that we only have a 90-foot and 70 foot poles, for it is less than a year ago that San Francisco first got Honolulu with a 200-foot pole. The night was unusually clear; whether the eclipse had anything to do with it, I don't know."

Anderson and Martin were both talking with the Faralones when they picked up Honolulu. The Honolulu operator was talking about the steamer Korea.

Earlier in the night the two local amateurs were talking with the cruiser Buffalo at Magdalena bay, which is over 1000 miles away, and they "got" stations all the way from Port Townsend to the Mexican coast.

A Permanent Xmas Gift

For a Xmas Gift that you cannot eat up or wear out and one that will last and increase in value, we recommend a lot in the New Ocean View District. Such a gift, will serve a double purpose and enable the father to encourage his son to become a property owner and take more pride in the growth and development of the city in which he lives, making him a better and more useful citizen. It will enable the wife to help her husband to make a good investment and provide a beautiful homestead that will increase in value. It will enable the young man to prove to his sweetheart his good intentions to save and accumulate something in life. It will enable the parents to save and acquire for their child the title to desirable property that will increase in value as the child grows older. A more valuable Xmas Gift cannot be suggested. For those who cannot afford to give $400.00, they may give only the amount of the minimum cash payment, which is $50.00, and then permit the son or person to whom given and who should be encouraged to save and make a good investment to pay the balance in monthly installments. We have printed sale agreements for this purpose so that you can deliver the property immediately, together with your receipt for the first cash payment. Call and see us about the matter.

Our Prices

$500 for corner lots and $400 for inside lots. Size, 75 feet by 150 feet, with liberal installment terms, or 5 per cent discount for all cash, makes it possible for you to buy for yourself or give to your relative a beautiful ocean view homestead and Christmas greeting that will always be remembered.
